The San Francisco Foundation is a catalyst for philanthropists, civic leaders, and community leaders from a broad spectrum of work and life experience. We specialize in bringing people and resources together to support and build strong communities, foster civic leadership, and promote creative philanthropy to help make the Bay Area the best place it can be.

We have been an incubator for community investment, original ideas, and passionate leadership for more than 60 years. Ideas and productive efforts are conceived, germinated, and nurtured here.

We embrace these values for ourselves and for the community we serve: build respectful partnerships to foster common understanding, solve problems, and ensure a caring community; develop our resources to effectively listen, reflect, and share lessons; foster excellence and leadership in individuals and institutions; value diversity and equity in all of our actions, and demonstrate integrity through accessible, timely, and responsive actions.

Our History
In 1948, a small group of forward-looking civic leaders, led by the late Daniel Koshland, started The San Francisco Foundation with the help of a small founding grant from The Columbia Foundation. From these visionary beginnings, The San Francisco Foundation has become one of the nation’s largest community foundations. This growth reflects both strong fiscal stewardship and a vibrant philanthropic spirit in San Francisco and the Bay Area.

We continue to build on Mr. Koshland’s vision with our annual grantmaking of $96 million last year, our Koshland Civic Unity Program, Community Leadership Awards, neighborhood and issue-based initiatives, community convenings, policy directives, and other programs where we partner with community leaders and nonprofits to improve the quality of life in the Bay Area. As the regional community foundation serving San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, and San Mateo Counties, we focus on arts and culture, community development, community health, education, social justice, and the environment.

We are proud of important and successful efforts catalyzed by the Foundation’s support, including KQED, Coleman Advocates for Youth, the Tenderloin Neighborhood Development Corporation, On Lok Senior Health Services, Alonzo King’s LINES Ballet, the Greenbelt Alliance, and many more key resources and initiatives in the five Bay Area counties we serve.

This year, we have chosen to conserve resources by reducing this printed report to half its previous length, while posting more detailed information on our website. We invite you to visit www.sff.org to learn about specific grants, trusts, and further information on many of the topics introduced in this report.
These are challenging times for families. We feel the impact of an unstable global economy close to home; a rise in unemployment, foreclosures, a surge in the need for food and shelter, and overall anxiety as every family tightens its budget and many go without.

Our grantee partners and community members have spoken loud and clear that the immediate need is for safety net services and programs for our most vulnerable community members. Food security, domestic violence support, housing, childcare, and foster youth assistance are our top priorities during this crisis.

This season, we launch our San Francisco Foundation Impact Fund, a mutual fund of effective philanthropy to make your dollars make a difference. Now more than ever, knowledge and strategy are the keys to ensuring your investment reaps an impact. The San Francisco Foundation is known for its expertise and knowledge of effective leaders and organizations in the Bay Area. The 2008 Impact Fund features three areas that focus on your most critical concerns: Children and Youth, End Poverty, and Healthy Communities.
